79 countries and 8 areas of the world have a problem with landmines and unexploded ordnance.

58 countries and seven areas registered new mine casualties since January 2005.